Air Mix Technology

Dietsch's unique Air Mix Technology ensures that each drop of water is mixed with air creating an invigorating experience for the user. Air Mix Technology is not only air-brush quality, but also assists with water filtration and water efficiency.

200H Salt Spray Test

Dietsch's products exceed the most stringent of testing and international standards. The 200H salt spray test is a standardized test used to measure corrosion resistance. Dietsch's innovative plating technology has been proven to pass against corrosion with the ability to withstand 200 hours of rigorous salt spray testing without showing any visible signs of increased wear.
